

From: CareySB@aol.com@inetgw
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/9/01 7:31pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I believe that the current proposed settlement doesn't punish Microsoft at all for their predatory practices. In fact, I believe the settlement will bolster their legal position for further market dominating practices.

If you want to stop the juggernaut:

1. allow MS to keep their compiler and application software divisions, but
2. force MS to put their OS source code in public domain. They could still be allowed to sell it though.

Carey Brown
CareySB@aol.com